We (N. C. Daily News) hear that H. E. Li Hang-chang has been in communication with the Chinese officials entrusted with the matter of the steam-dredger An Ding. His Excellency is desirous that the contract should be at once completed, and that before being set to work on the Woosung bar, the An Ding should be taken to Port Arthur, where he considers that an extrifling cost. At the conclusion of the work of dredging the bar there, which would take but a mence work at Woosung. The officials, however, still put difficulties in the way of completing the contract.

On Saturday another small steamer ran her trial tripfrom this barbone. This little vessel, called the Jumbo, has been made chiefly from the remains of the launch Fei Lung, which, it will be remembered, was blown up in the harbour last November. The hall was found not to have been so greatly injured as was at first imagined. Her timbers remained sound, and the part forward of the engines remained intact, and not much damaged. This wreck passed into the hands of Mesura Blackhead & Co., and was taken over to Kowloon to that firm's garden, where, under the superintendence of Mr. Smith, it was rebuilt into a fine launch. The hall was thus construct. ed; and it was then passed into the hands of the Dook Company to be engined and fitted up. It is now completed, and in accordance with a custom that has of late come much into favour, the trial trip was made the means of a pleasant excursion to Macao. The boat left here at eight a.m., and after several hours stay at the Holy City, left at sandown. We understand that before the trip was run, the vessel was sold to a firm in Manila, where she will be used at her out for much cargo carrying, but has two wellappointed saloons. She has been fitted up with engines of considerable power, and she made the trip in quick time.

He then proceeded to make inquiries n the case, and he received information which led him to arrest the two prisoners. Ching Aboi, an opium divan keeper in the neignbourhood of this house, alleged that the and asked him if he knew of a house to where they would take a girl, who was sick, as they wanted to find her a place where there was more air than where she then was. He spoke to the owner of the house in question, which was let to the women for 84 a month. He saw the women making up a bed there when he left.

Ching Ahoo, hawker, gave evidence to seeing the women carry a girl into this house on the evening of the 5th inst. He did not see them eave the house again. The next morning he was again at that spot, and saw the women enter the house, and this time also he did not see them

At this point the case was remanded to Friday. Ip Aying, a gardener, employed by Mr. Holmes was charged with stealing a watch, chain, and walking stick, valued at $22, belonging to Maicolm Carl Carlson, coxswain on board the U.S.

The complainant alleged that on Wednesday last he went over to Kowloon with a friend, and went to sleep under a tree. When he awoke, he missed the articles mentioned in the charge. He gave information to P.S. Fisher. P.S. Fisher made inquiries into the case, and facts came to his knowledge which led him to

THE FRENCH IN TONQUIN. FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

HAIPHONG, 30th June. There is little news to chronicle. Hanci remains quiet. A company of French soldiers has, I hear, been stationed in a josshouse on the Bacuinh side of the Songkoi river. Two gunboats made a reconnaissance up the river and when near Sontay were fired at.

Our reporter visited the spot in ly superior to his customary mode of conveyance. The party drove first to Mesers. Russell and Co. 'c Silk Filature, where they were met by Mr. Hitch Mr. Brunst, and Mr. Smith of the Hongkong branch of Messrs. Russell & Co.'s business. Excellency made a minute inspection of the whole a very advanced state of decomposition and works, enquiring closely as to the modus operandi, examining the silk, and asking questions as to the employes. Mr. Hitch told him that five hundred and fifty women were employed besides a large number of men. His Excellency then asked whether they learned their duties nickly, and desired to have an account of the kind of contracts under which the foreign employes were brought out. These questions having been answered to Li's satisfaction he asked whether it would be possible for the Chinese to learn to conduct an enterprise of this character, Mr. Hitch replied that there was no trouble about that, as five or six hundred were even now being educated in the work. Excellency then sexed for information as to the cost of plant, the price of silk, what was paid for occoons, and where they were obtained from, all mised to bury the bodies. SAIGON.

The question of ways and meens as to the establishment of a telegraph cable between Saigon and Haiphong having been referred to the Colonial Connoil, the subject was referred to Committee, who, as already reported, while an proving of the project, made annary suggestions as to the terms on which the cable should be laid, and took advantage of the occasion to protest against Tonquin being placed under a government distinct from that of Saigon. From the Independent we learn that the report of the Committee was adopted by the Council. Ministry, however, does not accept the conditions of the Council, and has ordered that the Council be again ponvened and asked for a vote pure and simple. The members at present in Saigon, that is to say, the eight European members, are disposed to maintain the vote already passed. The now session was summoned for the 4th July.

Another paragraph in the Independent states that the French members of the Council having heard that a rumour is circulating in France to the effect that there was disaccord on the question of the separation of Cochin-China and Tonquin have authorised M. Blauchy, their president, to telegraph to M. Blancaubé in these terms:--"The Colonial Council votes unanimously the union o nounce that during the last forty-eight hours the Indo China." A public petition against the proposed separation of Tonquin from Cochin-Chin was also being signed in the Colony.

We learn that the instruments ordered for the China Coast Meteorological Service which were ordered by the Rev. Father Deschevrens S.J., will arrive in Shanghai about the middle of this month. Yesterday morning, a person coming out of the alley noticed what appeared to be blood dripping from the floor of this room and forming a pool the afternoon, but the effluris was so powerful that he had to retire precipitately from the scene, notwithstanding that Mr. Penfold had previously ordered some carbolic soid to be enread over His the place to disinfect it. The bodies were in perfectly black. From enquiries the police have made, we learn that the bodies were discovered by the cousin of the woman. The woman was the wife of the proprietor of an opium-shop on the French Concession, where the man was an employé. The two arranged a plan to elope, and they did so, taking with them $9, some opium, and a number of opium-pipes: so it appears that they intended to start an opium shop on their own account. Both parties are natives of Swalow. How and when their deaths occurred, no one can tell; but it is supposed that the pair committed spicide by taking opium. very serious matter, and constitutes one of the depressing influences on trade and commerce. The currency of the country is entirely silver, There is very little gold to be found except in the Palace of the King, and none whatever in circulation. The value of a tical is nominally 60 cents, but a progressive depreciation has reduced this value to about 48 cents. In reports issued by the British Consul, he states that there has been an undue increase in the alloy of inferior metal with the silver itself, and that this has reached such a point that the Siamese tical, though maintained by official pressure at its original tender value within Siamese territory, cannot, even at the neighbouring port of Singapore, command an exchange of 40 cents. The Siame o are very tardy in meeting their poonniary obligations, in fact it is almost impossible to collect money from them without a suit at court. When the official announcement of the demise of the ex-Regent, the most powerful noble in the Kingdom was received the Siamese and Consular flags were half-masted, and remained so for five days; but the American flag at the United States Legation was not lowered. This circumstance oceasioned considerable unfavourable comment in the community for several days, but the action of the American Minister, General Halderman, was approved when it became known that the ex-Regent had not returned his official call, and had also failed to offer any explanation or apology for the intentional and consplouous discourtesy.
